Pre-Korean Price Level Ruled Out

'Couldn't Be Done,' Johnston Declares; Stabilized Line Eyed

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Economic Stabilization Act passed by Congress to try to push all prices back to pre-Korea days would be like trying to push toothpaste back into a tube.

He said the government is aiming to establish a stabilized price line and then hold it.

Mr. Johnston was called before the House banking committee, which is weighing the administration's proposal to broaden and extend the Defense Production Act for two years beyond June 30.

"We hope to have rollbacks in a great many items," Mr. Johnston said, "but we are not promising any general rollback to last June levels or to anything approaching them."

He said that if the government were to push back prices to where they were a year ago, it would wind up doing the same for wage rates, salaries and business profits.

"I don't think it can be done," he said. "And I certainly doubt the wisdom of trying to do it."

He said the Economic Stabilization Agency, which he heads, cannot now, under the law, keep most farm prices from rising. This is because the 1950 Defense Production Act forbids the establishment of ceiling prices on farm products lower than their parity price.

Parity is a level defined by law as being fair both to farmers and consumers. The parity level for each farm product fluctuates from month to month with the prices of other goods.

Mr. Johnston endorsed President Truman's proposal to peg the ceiling prices on farm commodities at the start of a crop season, based on parity levels at the time, and keep the price there throughout the season. Many congressmen have objected to the idea.

Mr. Johnston told the lawmakers the critical point in the fight against inflation may still be in the future.

"Despite the dull, despite the seeming improvement in the situation, despite the slowdown in the price rise and the turnaround in some prices, all the factors which make for a rip-roaring inflation are present," he said.

"Pressures increasing the cost of living continue under the surface. They are poised for another big push."

Mr. Johnston said the government needs stiffer enforcement powers. It would be "overly optimistic" to expect "normal honesty and normal patriotism" to bring about compliance with price control regulations, he said.

He also urged enactment of rent control "powers" for commercial property as well as residential.

USE CARE! SAVE A LIFE!

LISBON, May 11 (Special)—The seventh 1951 traffic fatality in Columbiana County was registered Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Magdalene Walkman, 70, of Grafton, Pa., died at the Salem City Hospital at 12:40 p. m. from injuries received in a collision Wednesday night.

Mrs. Magdalene Lageman, 52, of Greentree, Pa., and Rebecca Dillinger, 10, of Columbiana, are reported in critical condition.

Maurice Lageman, 56, of Greentree, driver, and Ella Johnke of Grafton, a passenger in the same car, are reported in "fairly good" condition.

Mrs. Lucille L. Dillinger, 34, mother of the injured girl and driver of the other car, was released from the hospital Thursday afternoon. Two other daughters were treated and released.

The accident occurred Wednesday night about 9 on Route 7 near Middleton. The State Highway Patrol at Salem said the collision apparently occurred when Mrs. Dillinger drove onto the main road from a side road.

Assembly Has Busy Day

Lausche Battles Bill To End Freeze On Liquor Permits

COLUMBUS, May 11 (AP)—Governor Frank J. Lausche has pulled out all the stops in an effort to block enactment of legislation killing off the state's liquor permit freeze.

The bill, sponsored by a fellow Democrat, Senator Arthur Blake of Belmont county, called forth Mr. Lausche's personal opposition even before the Senate's favorable 20-8 vote yesterday.

And within a few hours after he had lost the Senate round of the battle, Mr. Lausche loosed another blast in which he declared:

"If this bill is finally passed by the House and 4,000 new permits are dumped on the state, I shudder to think what the law enforcement problem will be and what evils will arise. It is not a good bill. It should not become law."

The state Board of Liquor Control froze the issuance of new liquor permits April 11, 1949. Mr. Blake's bill requires the Liquor Department to issue liquor permits in the restaurant, private club and night club classifications up to the limit of the quotas established on a population basis by law.

The battle over the permit freeze developed on one of the busiest days of the legislative session. The day saw:

►The House approve, 119-1, and send to the Senate a measure permitting courts to padlock gambling houses as common nuisances for one year.

►The joint Senate-House anti-subversives investigating committee make its report and offer a bill creating a permanent, 12-member un-American activities commission.

►The Senate approve, 22-7, and

Moran Handed Jail, Fine On Perjury Count

Friend Of O'Dwyer Receives Maximum Five Years In Prison

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—James J. Moran, close associate of former mayor William O'Dwyer, was sentenced today to a maximum five years in prison and fined $2,000 on a charge of giving perjured testimony before the U. S. Senate crime committee.

Mr. Moran, a former deputy fire commissioner, told the crime committee he met Louis Weber, Brooklyn numbers racketeer, about a half-dozen times over a period of several years.

But witnesses at Mr. Moran's trial in Federal Court testified that Mr. Weber had visited Mr. Moran at least 111 times at his Fire Department office.

Mr. Moran, 49, refused to testify at his trial. A jury found him guilty Thursday.

The conviction was the first here growing out of testimony before the crime committee. Mr. Moran was appointed to a $15,000-a-year lifetime post as a water commissioner by Mr. O'Dwyer shortly before the mayor resigned last year to become ambassador to Mexico. But after testifying before the crime committee, Mr. Moran resigned under pressure from Mayor Vincent Impellitteri.

After Truman Letters

Congress Quickly Votes Benefits To Korean Vets

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Veterans of the undeclared Korean war will be eligible for the same medical benefits as survivors of other wars if President Truman approves. It is virtually certain he will. He asked Congress for such legislation yesterday, even while Congress was considering it.

Reports reached here of a 21-year-old discharged Korean veteran who was denied admittance to a veterans' hospital because his fighting was not in a declared war. Hospital officials said there was no law to cover his case.

There should be such a law, President Truman said at his weekly press conference. He followed through with letters to the House and Senate presiding officers.

And by nightfall both houses had acted to extend war coverage to Korean veterans.

The bill, as it reached Mr. Truman's desk, entitles Korean veterans to these World War II privileges:

Medical, hospital and domiciliary benefits; burial benefits; compensation and pensions for the veteran and his dependents.

This swift sequence was touched off by ex-Marine David R. Arel-

Reds Appear Building For New Assault

Both Sides Continue To Probe Lines As Planes Pound Enemy

TOYKO, May 11 (AP)—Red forces in the central Korean no man's land and north of Seoul appear to be preparing a possible new double-edged offensive.

United Nations and Red patrols probed each other's lines while Allied planes hammered at the build-ups.

North Koreans slipped through draws in the hills, assembling 20 miles north of Seoul between Munsan and Uijongbu.

Chinese moved down from the 38th Parallel on the central front to join 1,500 of their comrades sighted near Kapyong. This area, 32 miles northeast of Seoul, had been a no man's land for more than a week.

American officers expressed the belief the Reds are gathering to strike at Seoul from two directions. Associated Press correspondent Nate Polowetzky reported from the east-central front that Allied officers said the Reds may launch a diversionary attack at a third point, on the Hwachon-Chunchon axis.

A Red patrol on pre-dawn reconnaissance today was ambushed by U.N. troops northeast of Chunchon. Air observers reported Chinese are in moderate strength in this area.

Farther east, South Koreans sent long-range patrols probing south of the Hwachon reservoir. At the eastern end of the line, other South Koreans sought to stabilize their positions north of the 38th Parallel. There they drove Reds from dug-in positions near Inje Thursday in a bayonet charge.

Along the entire battlefield about 1,110 casualties were inflicted on the Reds Thursday, the Eighth Army reported. Nearly 700 were taken prisoners, two-thirds of them in South Korea.

An American F-80 Shooting Star jet was shot down over the front Thursday.

B-29's bombed air strips at Sariwon and Sinmak today on the Red supply line to the western front from Pyongyang, North Korean capital. It was the seventh consecutive day of raids designed to thwart a possible Red air offensive.

North Korean airfields have been blasted by more than 1,000 tons of bombs since this aerial campaign opened 20 days ago.

Judge Enlarges On Ruling About 'Charity' Bingo

People who operate bingo games will have to "donate" their time to charity or they will be guilty of a gambling violation, Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw said today in a formal opinion on East Liverpool's bingo "test case."

His three-page opinion backed up and enlarged on the verbal ruling he issued from the bench Thursday morning before dismissing gambling charges against William P. Bock, operator of a raised bingo game at American Legion Post 4.

After reviewing the evidence and citing statutes, the judge said in his opinion:

"If an individual were to donate his time for operating the game, the statute would be violated; and, if that same individual were to hire another person to run the game for him while all the income was being paid to charity, the situation would be the same and no law would be violated."

He continued: "But that is the situation here. The defendant was paid by Post 4 to operate the game absolutely in the interests of charity. It follows that the whole income of a game of chance under Section 1306A, General Code, must go to some worthy cause or the operator violates the law."

Section 1306A prohibits virtually all types of gambling if the operator acts "for his own profit." The outcome of yesterday's case hinged on those four words, as the city was unable to prove that Bock was operating "for his own profit." Post 4 contended every penny went to charity.

Far East War Threat Worse Than Europe, Marshall Maintains

Questions Hit Dawson For Second Day

New Names Brought Into R.F.C. Probe By 'Free Stays' At Hotel

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—White House aid Donald S. Dawson today faced more questions of Senators who accuse him of playing politics with government loans. He has denied he "did anything improper."

Mr. Dawson, President Truman's adviser on patronage, showed flashes of temper yesterday under hours of questioning before a Senate banking subcommittee which contends he became involved in a Washington influence clique.

Yesterday's questioning dealt with loans and issues well explored through other witnesses.

But Mr. Dawson brought two new names into the inquiry. He testified two other top White House officials had—as he did—"enjoyed free days" at a Florida luxury hotel which had obtained a $1,500,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

He named the others as David K. Niles, another assistant to the President, and Colonel Charles Maylon, assistant to Major General Harry Vaughan, Mr. Truman's military aide.

"I did nothing improper, but I would not do it again," Mr. Dawson testified of his own three free visits to the hotel, the Saxony in Miami Beach.

He refused, however, to express an opinion on the propriety of a similar free vacation at the hotel by Hilton Robertson, the R. F. C. examiner who sided with the agency's Board of Directors in approving the Saxony loan over the recommendations of other staff members.

Mr. Dawson insisted "I had nothing to do" with the Saxony loan and denied repeatedly that he has influenced the R. F. C. on any loans.

"I had no influence with the R. F. C.," he declared under oath. "I could not, I would not" influence loans.

Explaining his own free Saxony visits, Mr. Dawson said he believes, the hotel picked up the check for his $30-a-day room because he allowed the management to use his photograph and mention his stay for publicity purposes.

Mr. Dawson said Mr. Niles referred him to the Saxony, but he was surprised when the hotel marked his bill "Paid" on his first visit in December, 1949, and said he did not expect free lodgings on two other visits in 1950, although they were free.

Mr. Dawson said he did not know until a couple of months ago that the hotel was an R. F. C. borrower.

Committee members raked Mr. Dawson with questions about their long-standing charges that the White House attempted to "discredit" the investigation of the R. F. C. after the report had named Mr. Dawson. President Truman had called the report "asinine."

Fire Destroys Barn For Loss Of $10,000

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a large frame barn on the farm of Lew Sowards on the old East Liverpool Road three miles south of Lisbon about 6:30 a. m. today.

The owner, who is a craneman at the Crucible Steel Co., Midland, estimated the loss at $8,000 to $10,000. New equipment, including a tractor, lime and manure spreaders, mowing machine and binder, and a quantity of feed grain were destroyed. Mr. Sowards managed to save 13 hogs.

The blaze was discovered when Mrs. Sowards noticed the glow of the fire on the wall of her bedroom. Lisbon firemen were called but the building was beginning to fall in when they arrived.

Battle Flares Inside Palace

Panama Installs New President; Ousted One Jailed

PANAMA, May 11 (AP)—Panama's police army and public opinion gave the country a new president last night after four days of riots and revolution in which at least 12 persons were killed and hundreds wounded.

In a three-hour battle inside and around the handsome little presidential palace, the national police—haunted by deposed President Arnulfo Arias off to jail. Nine persons died in the fighting and 80 or more were wounded.

Arias' successor Alcibades Arosemena, is expected to move today into the palace which yesterday's fighting left a shambles. A well-to-do dairy farmer, he was first vice-president until the National Assembly Wednesday night impeached Arias and swore in Arosemena.

Still in the saddle as Panama's strong man is the police chief, Colonel Jose Antonio Remon.

Diver Makes Inspection Of Bridge Piers

Report On Condition To Determine When Tolls Will Be Lifted

A deep sea diver continued an examination of the piers of the East Liverpool—Chester Bridge today for an engineer's report that will determine when the last of the Ohio-owned spans will be made toll free.

Roy Easter of Ravenswood, W. Va., wearing a regulation sea suit weighing 225 pounds, went down for 20- to 25-minute periods as two men of the bridge crew pumped him air from a power boat provided by A. R. Wood, bridge manager.

The diver for the American Bridge Co. began work Tuesday and Mr. Wood said five-foot-long cracks found in both piers will be tampered with lead wool to wind up the examination today or Saturday.

Mr. Devon's report was one of 18 sworn statements of campaign expenditures the board has received from candidates in municipal and village primaries. He was unopposed.

The reports are required under the Corrupt Practices Act, which puts a ceiling on political expenses. All candidates are required to file them by May 18, along with individuals or groups that supported or opposed any candidate or issue on Tuesday's ballot.

Six other East Liverpool candidates filed the reports.

Un-American Activities Commission

Permanent Group Urged To Combat Reds In Ohio

COLUMBUS, May 11 (AP)—A permanent 12-member un-American activities commission has been proposed for Ohio.

A joint Senate-House investigating committee offered a bill for this action yesterday as it reported to the General Assembly on its two-month investigation into the best way to combat communism in Ohio. The committee went out of existence last midnight.

The permanent anti-subversives commission was proposed by Senators Leo Blackburn (R) of Scioto County and C. I. Powell (R) of Clark County. Both were members of the temporary committee.

Three of the four Democratic members of the committee filed a minority report. They said a permanent commission would serve "no useful purpose." Senate Minority Leader Joseph Bartunek (D) of Cuyahoga County, the fourth Democratic committee member, signed neither report.

The minority report came from Senator Charles Carney (D) of Mahoning County and Representatives Corrigan and R. W. Reider of Ottawa County.

The Republican majority re-joined, in addition to urging the permanent commission, proposed an analysis of people and groups seeking violent overthrow of our government; a study of state laws to deal with subversives, and a commission report to the governor and the next legislature on the need for creation of an un-American activities group.

The majority report declared: "There exists in the state of Ohio today a strong and active Communist movement which in its origin, its development and its present practice is a world-wide revolutionary movement. The purpose is by deceit, treachery, infiltration into other groups, sabotage, espionage, terrorism or any other means deemed necessary, to establish Communist totalitarian dictatorship in the countries throughout the world through the medium of world-wide Communist organization."

Senator Hammers At Danger Point

Senate Probers May Wind Up Testimony By General Today

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall said today the risk of war with Russia in the Far East is "more acute by far" than the hazard of Soviet aggression in western Europe.

He expressed his views regarding the comparative risks in response to questions by Senator Hickenlooper (R) of Iowa at Senate hearings on the ouster of General Douglas MacArthur as Far Eastern commander.

For the first time since General Marshall began appearing before the joint foreign relations and armed services committees, he was a bit late in arriving.

The secretary reached the hearing room in the Senate Office Building three minutes after the scheduled starting time of 10 a. m.

However, only nine senators were present at the time. There are 26 on the two committees.

Committee aids said the senators were talking about holding an afternoon session in an effort to finish with General Marshall today.

The dispute over General Douglas MacArthur's dismissal centers on whether his policies or the Truman administration's would more likely touch off war with Russia.

Mr. Hickenlooper said that issue was the basis for questions he is firing at General Marshall, who was testifying for the fifth straight day.

Mr. Hickenlooper got started on that tack yesterday just before the committee called an overnight pause in the inquiry.

"It seems to me," Mr. Hickenlooper told a reporter, "that the program the administration is following in the defense of western Europe involves as great or probably greater risk of war with Russia than does the Far Eastern program advocated by General MacArthur."

"Why, then, do we accept the risk in Europe and shy away from it in the Far East?"

General MacArthur has called for bombing of Red China's supply bases in an effort to end what he calls a stalemate war in Korea. He also wants a naval blockade of the China coast and removal of restrictions on operations of Chinese Nationalist troops based on Formosa.

The administration, on the other hand, wants to limit the fighting to Korea. General Marshall and President Truman have said General MacArthur's program would run the risk of Russian intervention in the Far East—and a third world war.

In his testimony yesterday, General Marshall said firmly that this country is against recognition of Red China and against turning over Formosa to the Reds.

Apparently referring to the question of admitting the Chinese

Far East Peril Called Greater Than Europe's

Senators Hope To Wind Up Questioning Of Marshall Today

Communists to the United Nations, Senator Smith (R) of New Jersey asked the secretary if he believed the U.S. should exercise its veto.

"I won't go into the technical part of that, but we should certainly never yield to it," General Marshall replied.

However, General Marshall has said and repeated yesterday that the question of Formosa and Red China's admission to the U. N. could not be kept out of the discussion in any cease-fire talks. General MacArthur testified the joint chief of staffs on that point.

Just at the close of yesterday's session, General Marshall read a hitherto "top-secret" letter that Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett sent to Secretary of State Dean Acheson March 31. In it, Mr. Lovett said he believes "the question of Formosa and Chinese Communist membership in the United Nations would be fitting topics in the consideration of basic terms of settlement of the Korean situation."

The U.S. delegation to the United Nations has taken the position that the seating of Red China is not subject to the veto. Informed officials at U.N. headquarters in New York said last night there has been no change in that stand.

The question of seating new U.N. members is subject to the veto, but U.S. legal advisers have held that the issue is not one of seating a new member, since China already is a member, but rather one of deciding who should hold the seat.

The controversy over the Asian policy advocated by General MacArthur and the administration's European program boiled over into general Senate debate after the inquiry committee had recessed yesterday.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, shouted in the Senate that the administration "has not hesitated to give Russia cause for war" in Europe. The Ohioan endorsed General MacArthur's plea for an intensified effort to bring the Korean conflict to an end.

Senator McMahon (D) of Connecticut, a supporter of the administration program, suggested that Russia is trying to lure the United States into the "trap" of an all-out war in China.

"We have fallen for it," said Mr. Taft. "This administration put us into it."

He declared: "We repeatedly have brought about conditions that might have led to a war with Russia," and added:

"We have said in Europe, 'Cross this line and you will be in war'. We have taken more risks in Europe than we have been willing to take in Asia."

General Marshall reiterated to the inquiry committee that this country had no choice but to join in the program for defense of western Europe. He has said the only alternative would be to "surrender the situation to the Soviet government."

At yesterday's session, the secretary testified:

►That "we are gathering our strength as rapidly as possible", but he is "quite certain" the country is not prepared to engage in a world war at this time.

►That every day Congress fails to act on legislation to provide additional trained manpower for the armed services "is unfortunate—to put it mildly". He was referring to temporarily sidetracked Senate-House measures to broaden the draft and set up a universal military training program.

►That the limit-the-war program the administration is following in Korea is the only practical way to end Communist aggression there "with the least loss of life and the least possibility of the intervention of the Soviet government."

►That he had no personal knowledge of any pro-Communist officials in the State Department while he headed it in 1947-48, or earlier when he went to China for Mr. Truman to end the Nationalist-Communist war.

General Marshall rejected a suggestion by Mr. Smith that divergent views about opposing Nationalist and Communist groups in China had something to do with the dismissal of General MacArthur.

Mr. Smith said he understood General MacArthur definitely favored Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist side and that one school of thought in the State Department was sympathetic to the Communists.

During the Senate debate, Senator Humphrey (D) of Minnesota said that from what he had read of General MacArthur's testimony, "I would think he cut the ground right out from under Mr. Hoover's position with one swift swoop."

He was alluding to former president Herbert Hoover, who has advocated Gibraltar-like defenses for the Western Hemisphere, and dispatch of no additional American troops or dollars to Europe until those countries have built a "sure dam" against Communist aggression.

Mr. Humphrey also contended that if General MacArthur had not cut the ground from under Mr. Taft, "he took off the balcony and the ceiling."

Mr. Taft denied there is "any inconsistency" between the position he has taken and General MacArthur's testimony last week.

Mr. Taft said General MacArthur's testimony had been "grossly misrepresented by the administration press."

Mr. Taft said he often has expressed the opinion that Russia has no intention of attacking. If he is right about that, Mr. Taft added, "the only thing that would lead them to attack would be something that would threaten the invasion of Russia itself."

General Hits Talk That Occupation Of Japan Will End

TOKYO, May 11 (AP)—Rumors that the occupation will end immediately and general headquarters will be moved to Okinawa circulated in Tokyo tonight, but a high officer said they are without foundation.

Brigadier General G. V. Keyser, executive for administrative affairs, said:

"I can only issue a general denial that anything unusual is going on. There is and has been a gradual reduction of personnel."

He said the number of American civilians receiving notices now is "a little bit heavy".

Major General W. P. Shepard, chief of the civil affairs section, declined comment on reports he gave 30 days notice to his staff today.

Council Picks Pool Manager

E. J. Bouldin Chosen For Post At Midland

Edward J. Bouldin, High School teacher and assistant coach, was appointed manager of the Midland Memorial Swimming Pool Thursday night by Borough Council.

Mr. Bouldin's monthly salary was set at $275, effective May 20. The pool opens May 30. Mr. Bouldin succeeds George Ordick.

An ordinance on the co-operation agreement between the borough and the Beaver County Housing Authority for the erection of 56 low-rent housing units in Midland Heights passed first reading.

A contract for the purchase of a bulldozer, a Trojan Loader, was awarded the Atlas Equipment Corp. of Pittsburgh for $6,575.

Discussion was held on Midland's part in the Civil Defense program. Bills for April were ordered paid and monthly reports were given by borough officials.

The Perfect Bingo Game

It may have been legally proper to dismiss the lottery law violation filed against Legion Post 4 for operating bingo. The "test case" handed to Municipal Court was carefully tailored to meet legal specifications.
But it would take a stupid public, indeed, to believe that the case was a typical example of the way bingo is conducted.

Everything about it was too pat—a man with the slips to show exactly how much was collected, a woman from the Cancer Society to testify that the society got every penny that was taken in, officials from the Legion to swear the man in charge of the game was simply carrying out his assigned duties.

It was a perfect case for its purpose. The hands of the judge and the prosecutor were tied—they had to abide by the letter of the law. They had to show someone had made individual profit, and they couldn't do it.

That, of course, was the whole point of the case—to show that bingo is untouchable under certain circumstances.

The circumstances here are worth a second glance. The American Cancer Society loaned its name to the enterprise as the beneficiary. To us, that was a mistake on the part of the Society if it is interested in retaining the public's esteem. It is the first time in The Review's knowledge that the Society has found it necessary to resort to this kind of support, and we feel the campaign has been cheapened in an important degree.

It is the first time, too, that we've heard of Post 4 running a bingo game for a single, explicit beneficiary. In the past, when the post has wanted to help a fund-raising drive—and it helps a lot of them—it has made the appropriation directly out of its treasury, or put on a public dance, as it has done on occasion for the March of Dimes.

This instance, to us, was devised for a particular purpose, and doesn't represent normal practice by the Legion, or any of the other groups which find it profitable to include public bingo in their programs. Such questions can't be debated in court, but they certainly enter into the public's consideration of a case that fits all the legal measurements like a glove.

If all bingo were run like the case given to the court—collection slips on demand, a certificate from the beneficiary, all of the employees donating their time in the name of service to mankind—the Kefauver committee would have been stoned out of existence as nosey old soul-savers.

We don't believe all games are run that way. We don't believe the public thinks so, either. We have a secret hope that the police turn out to be just as shrewd as these other fellows, and come up with a case that won't look quite so perfect.

On The Border

It was plain for a few hours while U.N. planes were wrecking that buildup of Red Air power on the Korea-Manchuria border Wednesday that the question of whether or not to carry the war into Manchuria probably will be answered by the Russians before it can be answered by the United Nations and the United States.

If that buildup of air power had not been discovered, and if those Red planes had been turned loose on the U.N. forces in South Korea, the quid-pro-quo balance between them would have been upset. There would have been a flagrant violation of the "sanctuary enjoyed by the U.N."

If that happened, the "sanctuary" enjoyed by the Reds in Manchuria would be on the way out. If submarine warfare and bombing raids on Japan were added to all-out aerial warfare, the United Nations no longer could wage restricted warfare.

That was a narrow squeak when the buildup of Red air power on the Korean side of the Yalu was discovered and wrecked. The Yalu is not a wide river.

This Fight Is Fixed

There is a fight in Washington over continuation of price control. Because economic controls of this kind are related closely to the growth of statism, this might be called the fight of the second half of the century.

But the fight is fixed. Its outcome will not be affected by the blows struck. Price control is not going to be licked by anything which happens in Washington. Politically, it is a shoo-in. Congress would not dare to abandon the principle.

Economically, price control is a snare and a delusion. Even the politicians who defend it know that it works only indifferently at best, and always does more damage than it does good in the long run. They continue to defend it only because of the votes which they believe can be garnered by pretending to do something that cannot, in fact, be done.

The United States is only an apprentice in price control. The experts are the authoritarian countries like the Soviet Union and, to a lesser degree, Britain. But even the experts know it can't be done. Economic laws cannot be made to yield to arbitrary regulation.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

Let's Look Again At Jan. 11 And Jan. 12

GENERAL DOUGLAS MACARTHUR threw many more bombshells in his testimony before the senate committees than was at first apparent.

Only the most careful reading of the record brings out the points at issue. General MacArthur makes much of a program for action prepared by the joint chiefs of staff on Jan. 12. The ideas and purpose in that document showed that he and the joint chiefs were in full agreement. This program, as General MacArthur read it, follows.

►Continue and intensify now an economic blockade of trade with China.

►Prepare now to impose a naval blockade of China and place it into effect as soon as our position in Korea is stabilized or when we have evacuated Korea, and depending upon circumstances then obtaining.

►Remove now any restrictions on air reconnaissance of China coastal areas and of Manchuria.

►Remove now the restrictions on operation of the Chinese Nationalist forces and give such logistic support to those forces as will contribute to effective operations against the Communists.

NOW, LET us go back to Jan. 11. On that day, a new five-point "cease-fire plan" was supported by the United States, but criticized by Soviet Russia. This plan included these five provisions:

►An immediate cease-fire, with safeguards against use of the truce "as a screen for mounting a new offensive."

►Action during the truce on a permanent Korean peace.

►Exit of "non-Korean" forces by "appropriate stages."

►U.N.-approved administration of Korea during the truce.

►Creation of a U.N. agency, including the U.S., Russia, Britain and Red China, to settle Far Eastern issues, including Formosa's future and Chinese representation in the U.N.

If we compare these two statements, one day apart, the question must arise as to whether the State Department knew what the joint chiefs of staff were doing, or vice versa.

For the joint chiefs of staff were planning to blockade China while the State Department was planning to get Soviet China into the United Nations. The joint chiefs were planning to work with Nationalist China, while the State Department was planning to ditch Nationalist China.

The cease-fire plan was passed on Jan. 13, 50 to 7.

On Jan. 15, Senator Eastland introduced a resolution for the United States to withdraw from the United Nations if Soviet China were seated and that President Truman be directed to defend Formosa. Senator Taft called the cease-fire plan "the most complete surrender to which the U.S. has ever agreed."

Chou En-lai of Soviet China countered with the following proposals:

►It should be assumed on both sides that all "foreign" troops will be withdrawn from Korea. (He did not specify whether this would cover Chinese "volunteers.") Negotiations for the withdrawal should be begun "so that the war in Korea may be brought to a speedy end."

►The negotiations "must include the withdrawal of U.S. armed forces from Taiwan (Formosa) and the Taiwan Strait and Far Eastern related problems."

►Participants in the negotiations should be Red China, Russia, U.S., Britain, France, India and Egypt. "The rightful place" of Red China as a U.N. member "should be established as from the beginning of the seven nation conference."

►The conference should be held in Red China.

SO HERE we have the full results of the State Department policy of appeasement, which ran counter not only to General MacArthur's ideas but to a plan conceived by the joint chiefs of staff which must have been submitted to the State Department.

We, in the United States, were never told about it. Nor does General MacArthur know what happened to the joint chiefs' plan. Read this colloquy between Senator Russell and General MacArthur:

"Q: So if that was a recommendation of the joint chiefs, it encountered a veto somewhere along the line, either from the secretary of defense or the commander in chief, the president of the United States. A: I would assume so, sir."

"Q: Did the joint chiefs ever advise you formally or informally as to what happened to their recommendations? A: No, sir."

"Q: You did not discuss it with them on subsequent visits to your command? A: I discussed, every time any of them ever came out there, I discussed all these subjects."

"Q: And they did not tell you what had happened to their recommendations? A: Nothing. I have no knowledge of what happened to this study after it reached the secretary of defense."

Inside On Labor

By Victor Riesel

THIS IS TO report that 13 carefully-screened and trained American unionists have gone underground in Moscow. And they think it's beautiful. For this they traveled some 20,000 miles—to ride in the Moscow subways. And, of course, to insult their native land.

This special contingent of selected pro-Commie unioners arrived in Moscow April 27—passing themselves off as America's "labor delegation" to Joseph Stalin's personal May Day rally in Red Square. No one elected them—and the Combies selected them in San Francisco, Detroit, Cleveland and New York.

When they debarked at the Moscow airport, after a flight from the U.S. and England, the MVD rolled out the proletariat. The "people" cheered dutifully and rushed in like bobby-soxers to shake hands with the American labor "leaders". Then the Americans were shown the sights—especially the subways.

The trains don't run too frequently and the MVD is overly sensitive about such a minor detail. So that day they sped up the schedule.

All of which obviously excited one of the delegation's leaders, a chap from comradely circles in Pittsburgh, by name of Alexander Wright, once one of Henry Wallace's C.I.O. lieutenants in a thing called the Progressive party. Authentic reports from Moscow reveal that right there on the platform he told Red "reporters" that the marble columns in the "people's" subways were wonderful.

"Only the home of millionaires are as well decorated in the U.S.," he said. "Even the Chase National Bank is less sumptuous than the Moscow subway."

BUT Brother Wright's appreciative powers must have been dulled by all those "peace petitions" he read and signed in Pittsburgh Aug. 31, 1950, for the real word came from Mrs. Frances Margaret Johnson of San Francisco.

She said "People in the U. S. would have difficulty in believing that a subway could be so beautiful." You can tell that this lady has been riding the Market St. trolleys on the way to visit with Harry Bridge's friends.

But don't for one minute think the MVD permitted this crowd to spend its time underground. After showing them the great Red parade on May Day, the Russian propaganda chiefs put these Americans on the air, at the very

Pearl Harbor Probe All Over Again

By David Lawrence

IT'S JUST another Pearl Harbor investigation all over again.

Back in December, 1941, General Marshall and Admiral Stark thought that someone had told General Short and Admiral Kimmel what Washington knew about the forthcoming attack through breaking the Japanese code—but nobody did tell them.

Today, it comes out that the President and the secretary of state and the secretary of defense and special assistant Averell Harriman and General Bradley, who advised that General MacArthur be summarily dismissed, never told him that any of the public statements he had made during the preceding four weeks were violative of military orders or any other orders relating to policy statements.

The administration may have thought that General MacArthur, at a distance of 10,000 miles, was a mind-reader and as well informed about the state of mind of persons in Washington as were the five men who fired him, but there is not a single bit of evidence in the record yet to support that point.

In fact, the official record gets worse and worse for the administration in revealing the same kind of bad liaison in the last few months with Tokyo as the war and navy departments had with Pearl Harbor 10 years ago.

NOT A single word of disapproval went to General MacArthur last Dec. 6 when a general directive was issued advising all departments and all persons in the field as well as in Washington to clear policy statements with the departments back home.

Although General Marshall now testifies that the administration didn't like General MacArthur's answers to the questions of the press prior to Dec. 6—even though they primarily concerned military matters in his theater of action—not a word of such criticism was ever relayed to General MacArthur. He could as easily have inferred that there were no complaints here.

Not a single word of criticism

Noise Abatement

By Truman Twill

HERE IS an item about a 20-year-old bride who threw out her lover boy because he snored when he was asleep.
A lot of husbands have to put up with the same nonsense. To hear their mealy-mouthed wives talk, you'd think all the snoring is done by men. Maybe their wives' best friends won't tell them the truth.
Husbands have no monopoly on noises around the house, including snoring. Virtually any one of them would rather hear his helpmeet snuffle and choke all night than listen to her grind her teeth, which is one of the more horrible accomplishments of slumbering females.
Groaning is another sound effect calculated to file down the ragged edges of a husband's nerves. This does not imply that groaning is exclusive with women who are married. Their husbands also groan, notably after having their sleep disturbed by the groaning of the lady of the house.
Nor are all terrorizing noises made while the lady is asleep. There is the composure-shattering sound of bottles and jars being rattled at bedtime while she sneezes on the assorted goops that are supposed to improve her while she is asleep.
Also the snick-snick of hair curlers being applied. And even in some cases the thud of reducing exercises being carried on after all respectable people have blanked out.
Nothing herein is to be construed as a slam against any particular lady, who in this case is no noisier than the ordinary run of wedded females. This is only an effort to redress a wrong which has been perpetrated.
Men snore no more offensively than women. With rare exceptions, men cannot even snore in the same offensive league. It simply has been unfashionable to admit that women snore. All—but they do.

Local Problems

By Raymond Moley

The Kefauver Report

IT WOULD BE very easy to comment on the excellent report of Senator Kefauver's committee in cynical terms. Its wealth of detail and its many conclusions and recommendations are not new material. The patterns of crime change very little and the remedies are obvious.

But this report and the investigation which preceded it were valuable contributions to the public interest. It is well to have these activities, of which most of us are well aware, spread out in detail with names, dates and places.

The presence in this enlightened and wealthy country of an illicit industry with profits of billions and peopled by unprincipled scoundrels is a disgraceful reflection upon all of us. If this broad land were poor and illiterate, we might expect it to be infested with lawless bands of thieves and murderers. That is what uncivilized countries have had, and no wonder.

BUT HERE we are, rich enough to spend billions on government, on education and law enforcement, enlightened enough to have the feeling of holding the torch in a dark world; strong enough to conquer continents and seas; a nation of essentially decent, kindly people—here we are, living cheek by jowl with a larcenous crew of mobsters and corruptionists.

These people bribe and outwit the people we put in office to protect us; take our money with tricks and toys that we know are crooked; live unashamed in our hotels; hang around our public offices, legislatures and courts; boss the people who control elections. From what the report says, a good many shady characters found it easier to see Bill O'Dwyer, mayor of New York, than did the principals of schools where our children are taught morals and good government.

Over the nation there is plenty of money to buy votes by hand-outs, but not enough to stop illegal interstate trade in crooked gambling devices. The federal government has found power and time to harass many businesses, but it hasn't been able to prevent a telegraph company from acting as a medium of communication for illegal betting. The government squeezes the last cent of taxes from honest people, but "huge sums in cash handled by racketeers are not reflected in the income tax returns."

A RESPONSIBILITY falls upon the federal government to correct these federal matters. The Kefauver report spells them out.

Our wretched law enforcement in many states is revealed. It is up to state legislatures and governors to bring law enforcements in the counties up to the standard of some of the good cities. That can be done by enlarging the powers and facilities of the state police systems and reducing sheriffs to the homely tasks of process servers and jail tenders.

It is now up to the press to take on some of its crusading zeal of old.

It is up to the profession of the bar to drive out of its ranks the lawyers whose present occupation is to keep these crooks out of trouble.

And it is up to public-spirited citizens in many cities to create crime commissions to watch and support law-enforcement officers. The Kefauver report is right in saying that "crime is largely a local problem."

The President said what the country needs right now is meeter birds. He didn't say that is all the country needs, but it makes a nice start.

Anyway, Mr. Truman has the assurance of his party chief that a great many Democratic leaders want him to run again. At the moment, a great many Republican leaders also want him to run again. In fact they wish he was running this year . . . preferably right now.

As everyone knows, a Republican always believes "If the election was held tomorrow, we would win" . . . a belief they have held for several thousand tomorrows exclusive of election days.

A Teacher Asks A Question

Do You Understand Art? Then Who Is Julian Levy?

Even a schoolboy knows all about a man named Babe Ruth. But how many people ever heard of a man named Julian Levy?

Any television fan could correctly identify a man named Estes Kefauver. But how many could give you the correct identification of Sigmund Benkes? Or Arnold Blanche? Or Frank Riley?

These questions, and a lot of others in the same vein, were put to members of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon Thursday at the Travelers Hotel by Philip Schuyler, head of the Art Department at the College of Steubenville, in a talk on the "History of Fine Arts".

Mr. Schuyler said the great men in art, like Levy and Menkes and Blanche and Riley, labor along in complete obscurity. Yet their effect on every-day living is as profound as anything you may think of.

You buy a particular kind of car because you like its "lines". An artist put those lines there. You buy a certain tie because you like its design. An artist created that design.

Your clothes, your furniture, your dishes—artists built in the "good looks" you like in them. But Mr. Schuyler said this fact seldom crosses the minds of the ordinary man or woman, who think of artists as slightly peculiar people endowed mainly with fierce temperaments.

For the benefit of the club, he identified the men he had mentioned.

Julian Levy is regarded as the greatest painter alive today. He is the only man with three of his works in the permanent collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He is a consultant to costume designers and tailoring organizations.

Sigmund Menkes is a master of design. General Motors pays him a big retainer to give eye appeal to its cars.

Arnold Blanche is another little-known "giant" among artists. Blanche may try his hand at raising the standards in ceramics, Mr. Schuyler said.

Frank Riley is considered the world's greatest authority on color. He knows the chemistry of color, as well as the visual values.

It was Frank Riley who got all the paint manufacturers together and persuaded them to agree on certain standards. Now, when you buy a can of paint at a hardware store, you can be certain it will match a shade you already have, even though they were made by different manufacturers.

In the matter of art, the speaker gave some points to look for in viewing a picture. "Painting is a language," he remarked. "If it doesn't say something, it is worthless."

In building a picture, artists follow certain fundamentals. One is position—where does he put his main item? Another is drawing—the picture a true reflection of the setting? Then there is pattern—the thing musicians obtain by blending instruments, and a painter seeks by his play on colors. Then there is organization—does the picture "make sense" (Mr. Schuyler said surrealism doesn't make sense). Finally, there is color—a knowledge of the nature of color, so an artist can achieve even a translucent color, if that's what he wants.

So that's the story of art. Mr. Schuyler made it plain he feels a lot more people ought to understand it than do at the moment.

11-Point Plan Aimed At Russia

Dewey Asks Full Embargo Against Communist China

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey last night urged a complete embargo by all free nations against Communist China. He proposed an 11-point program to meet the threat of Russian aggression.

Mr. Dewey, speaking at the annual dinner of the New York state Republican committee, said: "I do not mean an embargo just of rubber or steel or military equipment. I mean an absolute and total embargo against shipment of any goods or any trading whatsoever with Red China."

The New York governor told more than 2,600 $100-a-plate diners that "while the pace will change from time to time, this war will continue the rest of our lives so long as Communism rules Russia."

Terming the Truman administration's Far East policy "weak-kneed and wobbling," Mr. Dewey added:

"I suggest that now is the time for the force of public opinion to compel our government to formulate a policy for the whole Far East—a policy that will stop the spread of Communism and start turning it back."

"It (the administration) can still redeem part of its failures by adopting policies in Asia and elsewhere which our people and our allies will understand and support."

Mr. Dewey, who twice was Republican candidate for president, also demanded that China under Communist rule be barred forever from the United Nations.

Concerning the ouster of General Douglas MacArthur from his Far Eastern commands, Mr. Dewey said: "I do not challenge the power or the right of the President under the Constitution to relieve a military commander. I do challenge the wisdom of the dismissal and the shabby manner in which it was done."

Mr. Dewey agreed with General MacArthur in advocating more aid and freedom of action to Chiang Kai-shek and recognition of Formosa's importance to Japanese and American defense.

The governor did not endorse General MacArthur's demands that Chinese Manchurian bases be bombed and a naval blockade placed against the mainland, saying:

"I am not a military expert and I do not have access to the intelligence reports."

Mr. Dewey's 11-point global program calls for:

►No appeasement or retreat from Communism anywhere in the world.

►No recognition ever of Red China and use of the veto if needed to keep her out of the U. N.

►A free Formosa, never permitted at any time to fall into Communist hands.

►More aid for Chiang's Nationalists and release of his troops for any use he wishes to make of them against the Chinese mainland.

►A total trade embargo against Red China.

►A policy aimed at an eventual United States of Europe.

►Admittance of Turkey, Greece, Spain and Yugoslavia into the North Atlantic treaty alliance.

►A solid front of free nations, guarded against any Soviet attempt to split them apart.

►Universal military training at once.

►A speed-up in production of tanks and planes, no matter what the cost.

The Columbia Broadcasting System broadcast the speech nationally.

Record Load Carried On 1,000-Mile Flight

LOS ANGELES, May 11 (AP)—A Douglas C-124 Globemaster II has flown with the heaviest load ever carried by a mass-produced transport plane, the Air Force announced today.

On a test mission at the Edwards Air Force base, the transport lifted 210,000 pounds aloft, flew 1,000 miles and unloaded, then returned to base without refueling.

The load—35,000 pounds over the design take-off gross weight—included about 70,000 pounds of simulated cargo. The C-124 is the largest transport used by the Air Force.

If You Love Your Mother--

Candy and flowers and gifts are wonderful ways to express your feelings on Mother's Day. And there are other, more lasting, ways of showing your devotion. Of the many things you can do to increase her happiness, comfort, and well-being, none will bring you greater satisfaction than making sure that your mother's health is in the best possible condition. Doctors today know that the later years can, and should, be a continuation of the best years of life. And they are able to do a great deal toward helping an elderly person enjoy a healthy and reasonably active life. Encourage Mother to visit the doctor at regular periods.

TV Newsreel
By "The Deacon"

TV is attracting what some folks choose to call a "higher type" performer these days. For instance... there's an ex-school teacher by the name of Sam Levenson who recently joined the ranks of top-flight TV comics. He got his start in a school class-room, "layin' the kids in the aisles over their readin', writin' and 'rithmetic." He kept the students in stitches and tickled the fancies of the ladies in the local clubs. And from there he jumped into television... and his Hooper's been on the up-jump ever since. We just point this out... because you never know where your profession might take you. It took Sam to TV. And now education's loss is entertainment's gain. The only difference is that now Sam Levenson has a much bigger audience than ever before. You'll be seeing him... along with a lot of bigger and better shows on TV. So get your set... to get set for TV at its best.

Deacon is now located at 629 St. Clair Ave.

Television is something you just can't afford to be without. And right now... we still have a fine selection of famous AIR KING and RAYTHEON sets. These sets give you the most satisfaction for your money. Come in and pick the model you prefer and depend on our experts for a top installation or service job. You can be sure of the best set and the best service when you see DEACON for Television, 629 St. Clair Ave. Phone: 4801.

Enemy Losses Put At 893,662

Increase Of 68,102 Listed Since April 21

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Enemy casualties in Korea through April 30 totaled 893,662, the Army estimated here today. This represents an increase of 68,102 over the figure released through April 21.

A spokesman said he could not give U.N. casualties for the same period.

The breakdown of enemy losses shows that the North Koreans have suffered 534,146 casualties and the Chinese Communists 359,516 since the beginning of hostilities.

Enemy battle casualties are estimated at 620,660. Non-battle casualties were placed at 125,880.

The U. S. Army does not reveal its non-battle losses.

Enemy troops captured totaled 147,122 by actual count. Of this number, 143,699 are Red Koreans and 3,423 are Chinese.

Enemy battle and non-battle losses estimates are based upon reports from U.N. air and ground reports that are checked periodically and evaluated by Army headquarters.

Damone To Trade $20,000 Monthly For Army's $75

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—Vic Damone, 22, radio and night club singer, was inducted into the Army yesterday, giving up a $20,000-a-month income for the G.I.'s $75 pay.

"Now maybe I'll get some mental relaxation after five years of night club and theater engagements," he said.

Mr. Damone was inducted under his real name, Vito Rocco Farinola. He is a native of Brooklyn.

"Before I left I said goodbye to my favorite girl friend," he said. "She's real sweet and her pop's a good guy."

At first he didn't want to mention her name, but finally said she is Joan Benny, 17, daughter of comedian Jack Benny.

Mr. Damone will report at Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Legend says the diamond's sparkle is kindled by the fire of love.

Radio In Review

By FRED ALLEN

Making Over The TV Headlines

(John Crosby is vacationing in Europe. Guest columnists will carry on in his absence. Today's article is by Fred Allen.)

IN CHICAGO, DURING 1950, a crime was committed every 12 1/2 minutes. (Criminals on TV crime shows claim they could have beaten this record if they didn't have to stop for commercials.)

The Supreme Court will be used for color television.

(Meantime, both TV networks will operate in one color—red.)

According to a survey conducted by a Northwestern University professor, teen-age youths are reading less because of television.

(In most American homes the 20-inch screen is replacing the 10-foot shelf.)

The newspaper critic's scathing review of a TV show is hate's labor lost.

(The minute a program is finished the viewer at home forms his opinion of the actors and their wares. The critic's pernicious monograph, appearing in the paper the following morning, is too late to serve a purpose. It is merely the obituary of a departed charade.)

Television is keeping so many baseball fans away from one minor league park that the teams are only playing with seven men.

(The other two players sit in the stands so there will be somebody to watch the games.)

A special committee of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters reports it will attempt to raise necklines in television.

(Faye Emerson is sure going to look incognito in a turtle-neck evening gown.)

ONE COLUMNIST wonders why most TV directors have those short haircuts.

(TV directors wear crew cuts to keep the actors from getting in their hair.)

There are so many college men working in television any office door can be opened with a fraternity key.

One TV survey outfit has a new electro-mechanical system that eliminates calling viewers by phone.

(Today there are so many surveys calling set owners that the set owners are starting to call the surveys—and what they are calling them threatens to reach a new high in sulphurous invective. Some of the phrases contain so much sulphur if they are rubbed on a hard surface the words will give off a dull blue flame.)

In South Bend, a TV antenna fell across a 27,000-volt power line, with some amazing results. Balls of fire bounced up and down on the roof with thunder-

To save the trouble of explaining prehistoric monsters to your children, turn on the TV set and let them watch any wrestling match.

An adult who attends wrestling matches probably reads comic books for enlightenment.

Television may mean the end of civilization. If the medium develops, and TV shows improve, people will spend all of their time indoors sitting before their sets. Babies will be born, families will be raised, old folks will pass on without ever leaving their houses. Nobody will go out to buy the products advertised on television. Giant corporations will collapse. Nobody will work or pay taxes. Everybody will be home collecting unemployment insurance.

The government will fall. If a foreign power lands on our shores unchallenged, marches through our empty streets and proclaims that it has conquered the nation, the people of our country will never know—they will all be sprawled around indoors watching Kukla, Fran and Ollie.

THE TV critic, who wouldn't think of going to an automobile plant and selecting one car rolling off the assembly line to criticize, will isolate one of a comedian's shows at random, lash it to his typewriter and pelt it to death with snide nouns, verbs, prepositions and conjunctions. A small-time vaudeville agent is trying to cross a man with St. Vitus Dance, a waddling penguin and a large bird that flaps its

Chester Loot Found In Car

Evidence Points To Soldiers As Thieves

Chester police today had most of the loot taken from the A. G. Floyd Dry Cleaners plant here Wednesday night, plus a station wagon apparently used in the burglary—but no prisoners.

Glenn Reed, who lives in the Allison School District, called Police Chief Floyd Lyons about 5 Thursday afternoon and said a strange station wagon had been parked near his home all day, loaded with clothes.

Chief Lyons picked up Deputy Sheriff Dale Thorne and investi-

Two Places Reported Entered At Newell

Two burglaries at Newell—possibly connected with another series Wednesday night at Chester—came to light today. A confectionery and the Newell Greenhouse on Washington St. were entered Tuesday night. Mrs. Ray McDaniel, operator of the confectionery, said chewing gum, candy and several tools were taken.

gated. They recovered from the car these items taken in the Floyd burglary:

Four men's suits, two suit coats, 13 pairs of trousers, an overcoat, two jackets, six sport shirts, a hat and 16 neckties. Harold Dickey, owner of Floyd's, estimated the total value of the garments at $570.

Chief Lyons and Deputy Thorne found something else, however, which interested them as much as the clothing. There were discarded Army outfits in the station wagon, indicating soldiers might have taken the clothing, switched to freshly-pressed civilian attire—and disappeared.

The station wagon carried Indiana license plates, but a metal sign above the plates read: Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

A check with the owner at Camp Breckenridge disclosed he had loaned the station wagon to two soldiers, whom he identified.

Nun Recovers $441 Forgotten At Lisbon

A nun had her $441 back today, thanks to the efforts of a Lisbon drugstore where she left the large sum of money in her forgotten purse.

William Morgan Jr., son of the owner of the Morgan Drugstore, said two nuns came in Thursday and used the phone then returned to their car. He noticed one left a purse but they had headed East in their car.

Shortly after he took the purse to the Police Station, the nuns called from Wellsville, where they apparently spent the night, to inquire if it had been found. Happy at the recovery of the money, they instructed Mr. Morgan to send it in a registered packet by bus to Pittsburgh, their destination.

Association Elects Commissioner, Clerk

LISBON, May 11 (Special) — A Columbiana County commissioner and the county board's clerk were elected to offices in the Northeast Ohio Commissioners' Association at its all-day meeting Thursday near Chardon.

Galen Greenes was elected president, and Mrs. Esther Sexton was named secretary at the 14-county group's meeting attended by 38 county commissioners and engineers.

The county delegation also included Commissioners Clarence Robinson and Kim Crawford and Charles O. Snyder, engineer.

The association's next meeting will be in August, probably at Lisbon.

4 County Women To Give TV Program

LISBON, May 11 (Special) — Four members of the Columbiana County Home Demonstration Council will appear on television Monday at 4:30 p. m. over Cleveland's WXEL in a council-promotion program, Mrs. James Pendry, home demonstration agent, said today.

Talking on council activity and displaying craft projects will be Mrs. Ralph Cox of Franklin Township, Mrs. C. B. McConner of Salem R. D. 3, Mrs. Ross Boegreign of North Georgetown, and Mrs. Glenn Huston of Unity.

Wells High Class Play Is Tonight

The Senior Class of Wells High School, Newell, will give its annual play, "Clementine," tonight at 8:15 in the School Auditorium.

The action revolves about Clementine, a football-playing Tom-boy who resents being a girl. The attempts of family and friends to make her a lady cause the comedy.

Her boy-crazy friend, Cathy, the philosophy-minded hired man, and Miss Pringle, the old maid, add surprising complications.

The cast includes: Clementine Kelley, Mary Ann Gibas; Mary Kelley, Delores Grogg; Gerald Kelley, Louis Mountford; Bertha, Eva Smoot; Abe Carter, David Jester; Hank Matthews, Donald Reppard; Pete, Rudy Fabbro; Tubby, Charles Arnott; Cathy,

Man's Wrinkle-Proof Suit Joins Wonders Of Chemistry

WILMINGTON, Del., May 11 (AP)—The du Pont Co. dedicated a 30-million-dollar addition to its research center here yesterday and displayed an amazing array of new things from the magic of chemistry. One was a man's almost wrinkle-proof suit worn 67 times. It has gone in swimming twice, been dry-cleaned repeatedly, even washed in a home laundry, yet it still holds its crease. Cool, lightweight and smooth to the touch, it is made of a new synthetic material—dacron polyester fiber. Woven differently, it becomes a shimmering white evening gown. There were synthetic furs, made of nylon, orlon and decron, the trio of Cinderella fibers with qualities undreamed of in fibers from animals' backs or farmers' crops.

Two hundred visiting scientists saw heavy draperies of orlon that a torch couldn't set afire. A special heat treatment enables the fabric, suitable for theater curtains or flame-smothering blankets on planes, to resist fire. And soon you may be putting sand on bearings in your automobiles. A new grease made from one form of sand or silica lubricates and stands up under high heat. It has passed strict tests equal to the punishment on wheel bearings by driving a truck 10,000 miles in a tight turn at 50 miles an hour. Another silica chemical takes the dangerous skids out of wax polishes on floors without dulling the luster of the wax. A new chemical raincoat sheds water like a duck, giving a stay-dry coating for paper bags, clothing, draperies and outdoor poster signs. Other researchers have a new paint containing the wonder metal titanium which doesn't catch fire even at 1,300 degrees. One of the oldest Biblical manuscripts in existence is the Book of Isaiah.

Composer Dies
NEW YORK, May 11 — Old-time music composer Bert Grant, 72, died in a nursing home yesterday after a long illness. He composed such favorites as The Rocky Road To Dublin, If I Knock The 'L' Out Of Kelly When The Angelus Is Ringing and numerous other songs. The Manchus overwhelmed China in the 17th century.

More Firms Told To Post Ceiling Prices

Barber And Beauty Shops Among Those Affected By Order

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—A special pricing order requiring such establishments as barber and beauty shops, laundries and parking lots to post ceiling prices was issued today.

The Office of Price Stabilization, which issued it, said the order affects millions of commercial and personal service operations doing more than 10 billion dollars worth of business yearly.

It also covers thousands of amusement and recreational establishments and industrial services with a volume of business also running into billions of dollars annually.

The regulation makes little or no change in prices service trades have been charging under the general price freeze. The O.P.S. said the order retains prices effective in the base pricing period of last Dec. 19 through Jan. 25.

The order is effective May 16. Ceiling prices must be posted prominently within 30 days after that.

For any service establishments which have raised prices without intent to violate the general freeze order, the O.P.S. said it will mean a rollback.

Besides the requirement that retail service prices be posted, the order requires that a statement of ceiling prices also must be filed with the O.P.S. district offices. O.P.S. officials said this provision should help in enforcing the order.

Among the items affected by the order are prices of barbers and beauticians; auto, radio and household appliance repairs; laundries, dry cleaning and tailor shops; shoe repairs, parking lots, filling station services, checking accounts; fees of bowling alleys, skating rinks and golf courses, and admissions to amusement parks.

Items specifically exempted from price controls or covered by other O.P.S. orders are not affected by the new regulation. These include transportation services of contract carriers, defense services, hospital services and theater tickets. Also exempt are jobbing shop operations in the fabrication or treatment of metals.

Driver To Get Hearing

Girl Awarded $50,000

AKRON, May 11—An 11-year-old girl whose leg was crippled in a traffic accident two years ago was awarded $50,000 damages yesterday by a common pleas jury. The jury, after two days of deliberation, returned the verdict against the Akron Scrap Iron Co.

Senators Hit Weapon Talk

Say They Didn't Hear 'Secret' Testimony

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Rumors of a new secret weapon were heard at the Senate yesterday, but were widely discounted.

The rumors developed like this. Two senators said a third senator remarked at an appropriations meeting that Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall had referred to a new weapon in secret testimony in the MacArthur hearings.

But the senators also said Army ordinance representatives who were present denied the existence of such a weapon.

Senator Byrd (D) of Virginia, who has listened to most of the Marshall testimony, told a reporter he had heard no such testimony. So did Senators Ferguson (R) of Michigan, Brewster (R) of Maine, Sparkman (D) of Alabama, McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin, George (D) of Georgia, Mundt (R) of South Dakota and Young (R) of North Dakota.

Senator Bridges (R) of New Hampshire said he recalled "some reference to some such secret project, but" General Marshall said it was classified and so must be off the record.

Another senator said General Marshall had referred to a secret project which it would be "fatal to disclose" at this time. But this apparently came during enumeration of 16 proposals made in January by the joint chiefs of staff relative to the Korean war. They included four General Douglas MacArthur advocated for stepping up aggressive action. Top Pentagon officials several times have projected publicly more powerful atomic weapons, including atomic artillery shells and warheads for guided missiles.

Chicago Looms As Convention Site

Republicans Bide Time On MacArthur's Policies

TULSA, Okla., May 11 (AP)—With Chicago all but finally chosen as the site of their 1952 presidential nominating convention, Republicans backed away today from any public endorsement of General Douglas MacArthur's Korean war policies.

The G.O.P. national committee still has to ratify a subcommittee's unanimous recommendation that party delegates meet in Chicago the week of July 21 to pick their candidate. Many Republicans think the Democratic candidate will be President Truman, seeking his second elective term.

Ratification of the subcommittee's recommendation is considered a formality, although Philadelphia adherents still are planning a contest.

In this last-minute battle, the Philadelphians are counting on an assertion that a vote for Chicago would be a vote to nominate Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee.

B. Carroll Reece, Tennessee national committeeman and a supporter of Mr. Taft, was picked to report the subcommittee's recommendation to the national group.

It would be the latest Republican convention in history. But Democrats are expected to wait, as they have except in 1856 and 1888, for the Republicans to do their picking first.

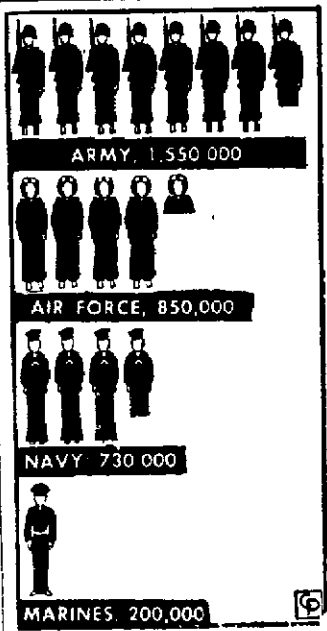

This year promises to be no exception, with the Democrats being forced into an Aug. 20 convention start if they choose Chicago to make the convention arrangements cost less. Some Philadelphia adherents remain confident they can woo the Democrats their way, despite their apparent loss of the G.O.P. convention.

While the nominating convention time and place was the principal business of the Republican national committee's meeting, the principal talk was about General MacArthur.

Almost without exception, the Republicans who will have a large voice in naming the party's next presidential nominee adopted a wait-and-see attitude toward the deposed Pacific commander and his proposals for stepping up the war against Communist China.

For instance, Werner W. Schroeder, Illinois national committeeman, told reporters he thinks it would be wise to "wait until the heat's off" before the Republicans decide whether they should endorse General MacArthur's program for a blockade of Red China, bombing of Manchurian bases and use of Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa.

"The Republican party should not hitch itself to the MacArthur program at this time," Mr. Schroeder said.

Since Illinois is regarded as one of Mr. Taft's possible strongholds, this statement by Mr. Schroeder was considered significant.

Russian 'Sewing Machine' Reunites Cut Blood Vessels

MOSCOW, May 11 (AP)—The immediately and the operation Soviet press reported yesterday saved the leg. It said the machine would be extremely valuable in accident cases, citing this case: An accident victim arrived at the clinic with a hand amputated, hanging by the skin. With the new apparatus, the blood vessels in the hand were reunited with those of the arm and circulation was restored. The nerves were sewed by hand. Muscles and bone mended and the patient reacquired use of the hand.

The Literary Gazette said the machine reunites vein and artery ends in a few seconds, contrasted with the 30 or 40 minutes necessary when the operation is performed by hand. The thread used is of tantalum, a metal which will not corrode inside the body and thus gives a permanent stitch, the article said. V. Gudov is credited as the inventor.

The article described the case of a girl in Kiev who was saved from a leg amputation. An injury to a hip artery had indicated removal of the damaged portion of the artery. The article said the ends of the artery were reunited

Prosecutor To Quit In Tuscarawas Fight

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., May 11 (AP)—Blaming "unjust criticism", Vernon Lee will resign June 1 as Tuscarawas county prosecutor.

He announced this yesterday, one day after a common pleas jury failed to reach a verdict on the degree of guilt of Robert Lee Smith, 21, of Navarre, Stark county, who was charged with rape.

A jury convicted young Smith two weeks ago, but Judge J. S. Hare set aside the verdict and granted a new trial after a co-defendant in the case was permitted to change his plea to not guilty.

Wilson's, Irish Stage Batting Sprees To Win City Loop Games

Schneidmiller Smacks 4-Run Homer For Elks

Wilson's Market of Wellsville and Irishtown went on slugging sprees Thursday night to take over the leadership in the City League. Combining four pitchers for 13 hits, Wilson's trounced Litten Motors, 12-8, at Patterson Field.

Irishtown came from behind to whip the Elks, 10-4, as Vic Reed hurled no-hit ball after the first inning.

Schneidmiller slammed one of Reed's pitches into the far reaches of Clark Field with the bases jammed in the first inning, for one of the few grand-slam homers in recent City League history.

Both teams put their winning streaks on the line tonight. The Irish tangled with Golden Star at Newell while Homer Laughlin travels to Wellsville to meet Wilson's.

Wilson's slammed five doubles, a triple and a home run in their 13-hit attack. Don Glass was the big gun in the attack, collecting four-for-four and driving in five runs.

An error, Proske's two-bagger, Glass' single and another double by Mucky Walker netted three runs in the first. The slugging continued in the second with a single by R. Campbell, consecutive doubles by Proske and Glass and Bill McDonald's triple accounting for three more counters.

A walk, a fielder's choice and Henry Thurman's base knock registered a marker in the third.

Three runs crossed the plate in the fourth on three errors, singles by Glass and McDonald and Chuck Pinkerton's two-base wallop.

Glass concluded the scoring in the fifth when he socked a home run with Thurman on base.

Litten's tallied once in the first on a walk, sacrifice and Del Manning's single. Mel Lockhart's double with the bases loaded and

Siefke Hurls No-Hitter In Lisbon's 8-0 Victory

LISBON, May 11 (Special)—Lisbon's Hank Siefke chucked a no-hit no-run game past 22 Sebring batters Thursday afternoon at Memorial Stadium to lead the Blue Devils to an 8-0 win in their first home game.

The stocky, blond senior fanned 11 and drove in three runs with two singles. Shortstop Joe Tucker was the only visitor to reach first. His first-inning grounder bad-hopped past Evans at second. After that it was simply one-two-three through the regulation seven innings.

Yeomans of Sebring struck out five and gave up eight hits, all singles except Rudibaugh's double which went to waste. Sebring made six errors.

Lisbon bunched its scoring in the fifth and sixth innings, getting four runs in each. The tally came on five hits, a stolen base, two walks and four errors. Scoring sequence by innings:

Fifth—Zellers reached first on error and went to second on Wilson's pinch-hit single. Siefke fanned, but Rudibaugh singled Zellers home, Wilson going to second. Siefke's single scored Rudibaugh and Rutecki followed him across on the centerfielder's error.

Sixth—Swartz swiped second after reaching first on an error.

Potters Finish 2nd With 53

Capturing seven first places and tying for another, the Red Knights of Toronto captured their third straight Invitational Meet on their home track Thursday night. They scored 66½ points.

Winners of the first three places received medals while fourth place finishers were presented with ribbons.

Toronto won first in the high and low hurdles, 440-yard dash, mile, shuttle relay, broad jump and discus and finished in a three-way tie in the high jump.

Poor Attendance May Force Browns To Move To Milwaukee

ST. LOUIS, May 11 (AP)—Talk that the American League Browns may be moved out of St. Louis rumbled through the baseball world yesterday like an avalanche touched off by a loose boulder.

You just don't pick up marbles and go home if you're unhappy in organized baseball. The entire complicated structure shakes when a stone is loosened.

There was proof of that in reaction to a report that the Browns, seeking solvency, may make a claim elsewhere. Milwaukee was mentioned as pay dirt territory.

A possible move to that city was denied by club owners Bill and Charley DeWitt. They conceded, however, that poor attendance here might force the team out of St. Louis.

Bill said the Browns are not for sale, that a price has never been put on the club. But he quickly added that if an attractive offer is made "we would have to listen attentively."

The Browns, tied with Philadelphia for last place, have drawn only 44,192 customers in 12 games at home this season.

The alleged strategy calls for the Cardinals to relinquish their Columbus franchise in the American Association in exchange for the Milwaukee franchise in the same circuit.

For the Columbus property the Cardinals would acquire ownership of Sportsman's Park in St. Louis, now owned by the Browns.

The Redbirds would move their American Association franchise to Omaha, Neb. where they now own a Western League club. The first cry of anguish went up in Washington from Senator Ed Johnson, president of the Western League.

The circuit cannot afford to give up Omaha and will not do so, he said.

Will Harridge, president of the American League, said he had no word of a possible transfer of the Browns to Milwaukee. Such a move, he added, would require approval of the franchise transfer by both major leagues including a unanimous vote by the American League.

Everyone mentioned in the reported transfer denied knowledge of it.

Higgs Wins To Take Softball Lead

Higgs Inn took over first place in the City Softball league Thursday night at the Y-Vodrey Field as Siciliano blanked Tony's Cafe on a two-hitter, 5-0.

The Knights of Columbus won their first game, downing Burdick's Hardware, 9-2, behind Ferello's four-hit twirling.

Siciliano was in command of the situation against Tony's, allowing a single to Sirianni in the first frame and a double to Parsons in the fourth.

He helped his own cause with a home run and a single.

Higgs collected only five hits off Corbin, but tallied all their runs in the second on two bases on balls, a single, an error and two home runs by Siciliano and Zetello.

The Kaycees clinched their game in the first inning with three markers on one hit. A walk, two errors, and Chuck Clendenning's safety accounting for the runs.

They added two in the second on singles by Ferello and John Clendenning sandwiched around a base on balls.

Singles by J. Clendenning and Groubert, Chuck Clendenning's two-bagger and an error produced two more counters in the fifth. Stepien and Chuck Clendenning's base knocks and another miscue finished the scoring in the seventh.

Burdick's scored one run in the first on a walk, sacrifice and Moore's base knock. The other marker crossed the plate in the fifth on Heath's three-bagger and a single by Kelly.

Dark's Bat Booms As Giants Bounce Back

Hits .486 In Last 11 Games; Bucs Win, 2-0

BY JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

With Al Dark hitting .370, Leo Durocher is leading his New York Giants back from the National League boneyard.

Dark, not Bobby Thomson or Monte Irvin, is the big man in the Giants bounce-back surge after their embarrassing start. Since the club broke its 11-game losing streak, Dark has averaged .486 at the plate in the last 11 games.

Because the early form chart is topsy turvy, the Giants have been able to recover from their early slumps. Now they're back in the league, only four games out of first place.

Everybody expected the solid eastern clubs to fatten on their weak western brethren. So what happened? Only the Giants did themselves any good in the first interseasonal series.

Boston and Brooklyn settled for .500 against the west and the defending champion Phillies wobbled around a 4-6 pace.

The Giants comeback was expected. By winning nine of 11 they almost wiped out the memory of their horrible start. Three more wins and they'll be up even with the .500 mark.

Dark took matters into his own hands while the west visited the Polo Grounds. Twice he had four hits. He hammered two grand slam homers and he drove in 14 runs in the last nine games while his buddy, Eddie Stanky, continued to get on base every game with a hit or walk. Stanky at .315 is the only other regular in the 300 class.

Dark had a hand in all the Giants runs in yesterday's 3-2 win over the flu-riddled St. Louis Cardinals. He singled in the first and rode home on Hank Thompson's home run blast into the right field seats. In the third he doubled and scored the run that proved decisive on Ray Noble's single.

The three-straight sweep from St. Louis lost some of its glamor because the Cards were far below par. Stan Musial, felled by a virus attack, stayed in his hotel room. Only three regulars were in the lineup. Six players and a coach were knocked out by the flu.

Rookie Roger Bowman and Veteran Dave Koslo teamed up to hold the Cards to seven hits with the win going to Bowman.

Cincinnati tightened the race by knocking off the leading Boston Braves, 4-1, on Ewell Blackwell's seven-hit pitching. The loss left the Braves in first place by one game.

The slim sidearm ace had Boston eating out of his hand. He missed a shutout in the eighth because Grady Hatton let a pop fly fall for a two-base error.

Brooklyn crowded closer to the Braves by bumping Chicago, 6-1. It was Don Newcombe's first win in almost three weeks. The big blow against loser Cal McLish was Gil Hodge's ninth homer in the fifth inning.

Pittsburgh, a distant eighth last year, wound up a successful tour by shutting out the Phillies, 2-0, on Murry Dickson's four-hitter.

All the scoring came in the sixth off Bubba Church. Gus Bell accounted for one with his third homer.

The Phils also lost a catcher when Del Wilbur was knocked out in a crash with Wally Westlake. Several stitches were required to close a gash under the eye. With first stringer Andy Seminick still resting at home after being hit on the head by a pitch, the Phils are in a bad way for catching help as they leave home for a two-week tour.

All American League action was postponed. It was too cold for Washington at Detroit and too rainy for Boston at Chicago, New York at Cleveland and Philadelphia at St. Louis.

Indians Get Chapman

PHILADELPHIA, May 11 (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics Thursday traded veteran outfielder Sam Chapman to the Cleveland Indians for outfielder Allie Clark and reserve infielder Lou (Chuck) Klein.

Salem Meet Attracts Six

East Liverpool's 19-man track and field squad guns for its third county crown tonight at Salem where five other schools have entered the 48th annual Columbiana classic.

The Potters expect stiff opposition from East Palestine's defending champions and the host Quaker squad. Observers believe the title will be taken by one of three in a close race.

In meets this season the three haven't appeared in a single meet together, but on two occasions two have measured strength. East Palestine finished in front of the Potters by a close margin in the annual Intelligence Relays at Wheeling, and last week Salem led the Bulldogs by a narrow margin in the annual Salem Night Relays.

Other teams entered tonight are Wellsville, Columbiana and Leetonia. New Waterford and Fairfield Township may enter the last minute, Frederick Cope, Salem faculty manager and meet director, announced.

Appropriate trophies and other awards will go to the winners. Preliminary events will start at 4 and finals at 7.

Dave Williams of Youngstown will serve as meet referee for the 29th straight year. Other officials will include John Russ as starter, Lowell Allen as jump judge, Andy Lindsay as finish judge, Slim Earich as weight judge, O. S. Ellis as head timer and Ray Reasbeck, announcer.

R. N. Charlton To Be Steward At Waterford

Whenever an important event takes place in racing, R. Norman Charlton is usually on the scene. In the past, quite some years ago, it was as a newspaperman, while of late it is in the role of a racing official.

On May 19, and as one of the stewards empowered with supervision of the racing, he will take up duties for a 40-day meeting at the modern mile track, Waterford Park, where racing on a major scale is to be introduced to the upper Ohio valley.

Charlton, recently engaged by A. J. Boyle, president of the track, for the post of steward, comes here from New England. He has served in one capacity or another in the "down east" area ever since 1933 when racing was inaugurated under pari-mutuel wagering.

At that time he was correspondent for Daily Racing Form. Later, in 1946, 1947 and 1948 he was the steward representing the Massachusetts Racing Commission. In addition he has served in the stand at other New England race courses, Garden State and Charles Town. The latter track is owned by the Charles Town Jockey Club, Inc., operators of Waterford Park.

Meantime, the million-dollar plant near Newell is being whipped into shape for the inaugural week from Saturday. Racing horses from throughout the east and south are being stabled at the park each day, and owner Boyle expects an opening day crowd of more than 20,000, thousands from the Pittsburgh and Youngstown areas.

Hey, Kids! Bring Back Those Balls, Please!

Hey, kids, the next time you retrieve a baseball at Patterson Field during a City League game, throw it back into the playing field.

Lawrence Zollinger, league president, today made a plea to the kids to return balls knocked over the fences at the various league fields.

A dozen balls this season, he explained, cost the league $33. In Tuesday's game four balls were "swiped" by the kids. Two later were returned, but continued loss of balls in this manner will hit the league's pocketbook very hard. In fact, the league can't stand that loss continually.

A dime is given a boy every time he brings back one of the balls knocked out of the field. In addition, Mr. Zollinger said, "we'll see that boys get enough balls to play with. They don't have to run home with them".

Midland Loses League Final

Midland High dropped its final WPAL, Section 7 baseball league game at New Brighton Thursday afternoon, a 6-3 decision to the Lions.

The loss gave the Leopards a 3-6 loop record. They have a postponed game with Rochester on the books, but Coach John Wilson said it probably won't be played off because neither has a chance for the title which Beaver clinched yesterday with a 2-1 win over Rochester while Freedom was losing to Monaca, 4-3.

Midland plays its final Monday against Chester in an exhibition at Midland.

Jack Gibson held the Lions to five hits yesterday, but five errors behind him were costly. After both teams scored once in the first inning, New Brighton tallied twice in the second, three in the third for the clinchers. Midland rallied for two in the sixth.

Petkovic collected two of Midland's four hits, one a three-bagger. None got more than one hit for the winners. Bilsing homered for the Lions.

Ferrier Threatens Hogan's Title In Greenbrier Open

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., May 11 (AP)—Ben Hogan's record score for the fourth annual Greenbrier Open Golf tournament is threatened and so is his title if he doesn't keep moving today.

The Texas bantam got off to a ragged start in yesterday's opening round with a tie for fourth place, but he was moving fast at the end.

"I was going good at the finish," said Ben in an obvious relief.

He dropped birdie putts on four of the last five holes of the course over which he shot 259 last year to tie the world record for 72 holes on a par 70 course.

Meanwhile, Jim Ferrier of San Francisco starts the second round with a sizzling 64 to lead for the first 18 holes of the 72-hole tournament.

While Ferrier, the former Australian amateur king, was belaboring par, Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., was only a stroke behind. Hamilton plopped in the only eagle of the first round, a 35-foot chip shot on the 14th green, to wind up with a 65 and one stroke behind the leader.

Tied at 67 for third were Sam Snead, George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa., and Tony Penna of Cincinnati.

Hogan had two companions also at 68 — Dutch Harrison of St. Andrews, Ill., and Henry Picard of Cleveland.

In 1936 the Salisbury club of the Eastern Shore League dropped from the top to the bottom of the standings by losing 21 games in one week. The league president ruled that an ineligible player was on the roster.

Hurls No-Hit, No-Run
MONROE, La., May 11 — Darwin Chrisko, 20-year-old right-hander of Vernon, Tex., made Cotton States League baseball history for Monroe last night as he hurled the Sports to a no-hit no-run 5-0 victory over the Hot Springs Bathers.

The biggest thrill of Jimmie Dykes' playing career in the American League was playing in the first major league All-Star game in 1933.

Legion Auxiliary Fetes Old Timers
About 50, including 21 World War I members, attended the Old Timers Night program Wednesday night put on by the Auxiliary of the Wellsville American Legion Post 70 at the Post Home on Wells Ave.

Among the old timers attending were seven charter members, four gold star mothers, and 10 past presidents of the Auxiliary, including Mrs. Dale Kressell, now living in California.

A musical program was presented with solos by Mrs. Helen Welch and Linda Menough. Several selections were presented by a quartet composed of Margaret McAdoo, Phyllis Heiney, Jackie Leughmyer and Marge Call.

At the business session, the Auxiliary voted to donate $15 to the Playground Fund and $10 to the Cancer Fund.

Plans were completed for the high school basketball banquet on May 18 which the Auxiliary will serve. Arrangements also were discussed for the Poppy Day sale to be held May 26.

Mrs. Helen Leatherberry presided at the business session.

It would necessitate a trucking system, which would be expensive.

But with no other cost for raw material, it shouldn't be prohibitive.

who put Arias in the president's chair in 1949 and who took him out of it yesterday after public clamor supported the National Assembly's impeachment action.

Arosemena announced that his government will include representatives of all political groups except the outlawed Communists. He said it will co-operate fully with the United States, which controls the Panama Canal Zone territory through the middle of the republic.

Arias touched off the wave of violence Monday night with a decree outlawing the 1946 constitution, reinstating the 1941 charter and dissolving the National Assembly. He said he acted against a subversive oppositionist-Communist plot which threatened the country.

Arias Wednesday night annulled his decree and Colonel Remon said he would support him in office, but the police chief switched his stand yesterday afternoon after Supreme Court Chief Justice Erasmo de la Guardia told a cheering crowd of thousands the impeachment of Arias was constitutional.

Arias and 1,000 or so of his followers entrenched themselves in the upper stories of the palace. Others of his armed supporters barricaded streets leading to the building with trucks and took positions behind them. Pro-Arias snipers were posted at vantage points throughout the city. Then the president rejected Colonel Remon's order that he quit the palace.

The battle was joined when Arias supporters in the upper floors of the palace opened fire on a police guard occupying the first floor. The city's streets were deserted as both sides battled with machine guns, rifles, pistols and grenades. Police reinforcements fought through to the palace, but it took them an hour to get through the barricades.

After Colonel Remon threatened death to all in the palace unless Arias surrendered, his cabinet gave in. Soon after, the president, unhurt but "pale and fearful" in a bloodstained white suit, was taken.

His wife, former government minister Jose Clemente de Obaldia, former finance minister Norberto Zurita and other aids were jailed with him. A crowd jeered and cursed as they were taken into police headquarters.

In all, 1,024 persons were reported under arrest.

Expenses

H. Kimmel reported an unsuccessful bid for the G. O. P. Fourth Ward Council nomination cost him $31.15. Albert L. Hall said his successful bid for nomination as councilman-at-large on the Republican ticket cost $7.60.

L. T. Capehart, veteran councilman-at-large, said he spent nothing in a successful bid for nomination on the G. O. P. slate. Joseph W. C. Cooper, Democrat, said an unopposed bid for city solicitor cost him nothing.

Four candidates filed the reports from Wellsville. They are: James L. McSweeney, Republican for solicitor, nothing; John Porter, Republican for First Ward councilman, $4.90; James E. Fogo, Republican for council-at-large, $7.73, and William P. Barker, Democrat for treasurer, $17.01.

Four reports were filed from Salem. They came from Orvil C. Hoover, for solicitor, and Michael Schuller, Byron Zimmerman and Ned Massa, all council candidates. Mr. Zimmerman was the only one who reported an expenditure. He said he spent $1.65.

From Lisbon, Frank E. Henry, a candidate for Board of Public Affairs, and Homer McPherson, council aspirant, said they had no expenses.

John Steber said he spent nothing in a campaign for council at East Palestine. Warren Ashbaugh, candidate for council president there, reported spending $6.

port to the Ohio Bridge Commission, which will decide when the bridge will be freed. It has set the tentative date as June 15, depending on the condition of the piers.

There is 12 to 14 feet of water around the piers beyond the supporting riprap, and the current continues rather high.

Mr. Wood said the river has been so high in recent weeks diving was impossible until now. He disputed a statement before the commission April 27 that the water had been above normal only six days in the previous three weeks, and quoted records of Dam 8 showing the river was high on April 22.

Return Of Tolls Asked On Steubenville Bridge

Senator Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, representing the 20th-22nd Senatorial District, Thursday introduced a bill at Columbus to reimpose tolls on the Steubenville-Weirton Bridge to finance repairs.

The bill authorizes the commission to take over the bridge and charge tolls to build up a repair and reconstruction fund.

At present, the bridge is toll-free and is maintained by the State Highway Department.

Under the Blake bill, the commission would turn the bridge back to the Highway Department after major repairs had been financed and the bridge again would be toll-free.

"On the basis of the 1950 census, the number of permits to be issued would be 4,000."

But after some sharp debate in which Democrat Blake said, "I wish to remind the senators the very fabric of our government is being destroyed by executive intervention," Mr. Blake and three other Democrats joined 16 Republicans to push the bill to passage.
